

Gina Bruno, Vice President of Value-Based Care at naviHealth, was recently named a 2020 Future Leader by Aging Media Network and Skilled Nursing News.

This award recognizes dynamic industry leaders who are shaping the next decade of care delivery and are deeply committed to the well-being of the aging population and the industries they serve.

“We are thrilled to showcase these leaders across the care continuum with the Future Leader designation,” says Aging Media Co-Founder George Yedinak. “As the aging population grows and care models continue to shift, we need Future Leaders more than ever to pave the way for the future of senior care.”

Read more here.